When I Can't Sleep

Pascal Pinon

I remind myself in the darkness
when half the world is awake and when I can't sleep, I imagine I'm without until my eyes start to wake

When I head off for new adventures and find my feet on new paths no matter how far away I end up my heart always wants

In my deepest thought:
the marrow of my goals
Oh ooooh oh ooooh
Oh oaooh oh oaooh

I remind myself in the darkness
when half the world is awake
and when I can't sleep I imagine I'm without you 'till my eyes start to wake

In my deepest thought
the marrow of my goals
All I need is already above me Things I cannot touch for your to keep

In my deepest call the marrow of my bones
All my past intentions
I lay them on the altar

Oh ooooh oh ooooh
Oh oaooh oh oaooh

I remind myself in the darkness...
