Topanga Windows

Spirit

watching the world through our Topanga window seeing people running through their lies the sun shines warm through our Topanga window the cat lies sleeping waiting for the nightyour time is going much too fast you've got to slow it on down or it won't last
and what we'll be will sewn in a past part our Topanga window window window people searching for a better season trying to catch their moment on the run always asking wanting what's low reason what do you want when you just want to have some fun?your time is going much too fast
our Topanga window window windowwhen you find your own Topanga window look and see just exactly where you've been spend your time behind Topanga window come out from the city and the people that would fill you in time is going much too fast
window window window
