Forever Wondering

Gilbert O'Sullivan

I woke up late this morning
That's the second lime this week
If my boss finds out I'm late again
He's sure to make me leaveIs there no end to my worries
I'm forever wondering
My girlfriend's name is Susan
We got engaged last marchWas killed while getting off a bus
At the top of marble arch
What did she do to deserve this
I'm forever wonderingLet me say that right away
Whatever you might think
I am not about to lose my mind
Although I might feel that way inclinedI'm not the type, no head for heights
You think you got your troubles
Well just take a look at mine
Must be the first pedestrianTo receive a parking fine
Is there no-end to my worries
I'm forever wondering
How can you sit there and say things likeBoy you're looking good
When I feel like something the cat brought in Not that I don't like cats why think
Yours would look great on a curry plateI've got this slight infection
Thought was in my head
When I asked my doctor what it was
He said " I don't know myself"Is there no end to my worries
I'm forever wondering

Songwriters
O'Sullivan, GilbertPublished by Lyrics Â© Sony/ATV Music Publishing LLC

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/