

For a Reason

ZhanÃ©©

saying goodbye can be the hardest thing to do when you really love someone you keep holding on hoping for the second will last last you forever but it don't letting go can be the hardest to do when you truely care about someone you can't say goodbye enough time to make the feelings last a lifetime but all the memories never go away holding on
 holding on
 holding on
 holding on believing in love can be the hardest thing to do after losing a friend as close as you i need to feel once again like i did in love but i don't i can't help but to keep
 holding on
not for a minute for an hour
 holding on everything for a reason everything happens for a reason they say
everything happens for a reason they say
i don't know weither to believe them they say everything happens for a reason they say they say they keep telling me
 they say i don't won't to loose you one more time everything happens for a reason they say i don't want to loose your love not one more time not for a second not for a minute not for an hour

never can find i keep holding on everything happens for a reason they say keep telling me that everythings going to be alright everything happens for a reason they say said everything happens everything little thing happens for a reason everything happens for a reason they say i don't weither to believe them anymore but they still keep telling me
reason
they say
not for a minute not even for an hour
