These Nights Are Long

So They Say

So if all we are is just a gust of air
That won't make up for uncivil tongues
That if what I have done has put me here
In a middle of battlefield caught in despairIt's the lust that you feel
It's the trust
It's the trust we're lacking
On and on we never made much sense to usYou're alone
The nights are long as long as I think of you
(Think of you)
She's good at making love but she ain't you
(You)The nights are long as long as I think of you
(Think of you)
She's good at making love but she ain't youI don't like how you always compare
I don't really think that's somehow fairIt's the lust that you feel
It's the trust
It's the trust we're lacking
On and on we never made much sense to usYou're alone
The nights are long as long as I think of you
(Think of you)
She's good at making love but she ain't you
(You)The nights are long as long as I think of you
(Think of you)
She's good at making love but she ain't youShe ain't you
She just ain't youYou'll get far
I don't care
(If I fucked up)
See your face before I fall asleep tonight
(You)The nights are long as long as I think of you
(Think of you)
She's good at making love but she ain't you
(She's good at making love but ain't you)The nights are long as long as I think of you
(The nights are long as long as I think of you)
She's good at making love but she ain't you
(She ain't you)
