

I'm Scared

Hoku

I don't know where we stand anymore
You've got one foot in my life
And the other's out the door
And I can't believe this is happening to me Deep inside I've wanted to believe
That somehow, maybe someday
There'd be some one there for me
And I hope, I haven't lost my chance I don't want to wake up to reality
Of you not being here with me
There's so many possibilities that we let slip away
And if you're heart could speak what would it say You're scared, you're scared, you're scared, you're scared
You're scared to say you love me
I'm scared, I'm scared, I'm scared, I'm scared
Will you always stay, you don't have to run away I wish I could believe in what I feel
I've been fooled so many times before
I don't know what is real
Maybe I'm just fooling myself I've been running out of reasons to let go
Tried opening up my feelings
But your door is always closed
And I find myself dreaming my life away I don't want to wake up to reality
Of you not being here with me
There's so many possibilities that we let slip away
And if you're heart could speak what would it say You're scared, you're scared, I'm scared, you're scared
You're scared to say you love me
I'm scared, I'm scared, you're scared, I'm scared
Will you always stay, or will you run away You're scared, you're scared, you're scared, I'm scared
You're scared to say you love me
I'm scared, I'm scared, I'm scared, I'm scared
You don't have to worry
'Cause I'm running out of reason to say no I don't want to wake up to reality
Of you not being here with me
There's so many possibilities that we let slip away
