

Glossy Books

Bodyjar

There's nothing that I could say Page one is all she wants to be
To make her change the way she thinks
It wasn't a phase to her
It wasn't a part of growing up
Don't compare yourself To some 13 year old who needs help
Is all you needed to be
The girl inside
It's only looks
You tried to hide
You can't compare yourself To all those
glossy books
I know you know what's right
You need to see
You'll never be quite the way you want
You'll never be satisfied
The reason why you can't pretend
Don't try to hide it
Of course you're so pretty now
As you did everything they said to do
You can be happy now
You're beautiful and beautifully dead
And time unfolds
the reason
They don't come
And life reveals the season
Time unfolds the reason
They don't come
The girl inside
You tried to hide
Is all you needed to be
It's only looks
You can't compare yourself To all those glossy books
Time heals sometimes
Then you know what's right
Time heals sometimes

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnyrics.com/>