

Monsoon Rains

Publish the Quest

I've worn myself thin again so thin it feels like i've got no skin i guess it's a lesson and it never ends
i guess it's just a lesson again for when it rains those those monsoon rains for days it's hard to find your place someplace you can plant your feet hey and nothing shakes no I'm not slipping nothin's slipping down down way down the ocean swells have grown and the tide has come and gone and i wonder if the moon has always been that strong i wonder if the rain has ever lost its way well falling from a cloudy sky you're just getting washed away refrain

so here come those same thoughts again just like some spinoff of that song again and I've got to wonder if the song knows an end just like the spirit in our long lost friends refrain x2

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnlyrics.com/>