Break The Glass

Instans

Breaking, myselfTheres something about myself I cant control
Yet it happens time and time again when Im trying to be Well I smash it down and break it down when Im trying to be Well its such a shame its sad to say theres nothing to see thereI dont wanna talk about it
Cause you know I cant live without it
Its a stupid fucking shame and every time I think about it
I think Im so lameI break the glass, I break it down
I break the glass, I break it down
I break the glass, I break it down
I break the glass, I break it down
Down!Whats your story, whats your sign, no I cant agree?
Well you know youll never get it in this life for free
You can blow it down and break the glass break my heart in two
But youd better be prepared its such a shock, theres nothing thereFill me up because Im empty
Why couldnt I just have kept me?
You know it really fucking sucks
When I try to talk about it the words seem to get stuckI break the glass, I break it down
I break the glass, I break it down
I break the glass, I break it down
I break the glass, I break it down
Down!I break the glass, I break it down
I break the glass, I break it down
I break the glass, I break it down
