Raised Fist

I just don't want to grow up by myself
Believing in that way to change
I don't want to buy my water out of the bottle
And I don't want my brain to be chemically damaged I promised myself, I would never pose a threat to anyone else
Oy, oy, oy
But anger from my side makes me wanna change what I just said
I promised myself, I would never pose a threat to anyone else
Oy, oy, oy
But anger from my side makes me wanna change what I just said We must start to represent the peoples of the change
(Otherwise it's)
Going to get more hurt by me In your discussion, your mouth is the perfect weapon
Without the action, you're pushing it to the next generation
You have to start with yourself without any distractions
You have to stop leaving the dirt to the next generation This is up to you and me
Not the next generation
This is just making me bleed, frustration This is up to you and me
Not the next generation
This is filling me up with frustration In a few years
We aren't able to see our hands in front of us
How can we only blame the big business company
If we have no care for the world ourselves? I promised myself, I would never pose a threat to anyone else
Oy, oy, oy
But anger from my side makes me wanna change what I just said
I promised myself, I would never pose a threat to anyone else
Oy, oy, oy
But anger from my side makes me wanna change what I just said
