

Stuck In My Teeth

Circa Waves

I swear to god I'm not the same
As I was the other week
I got you stuck in my teeth And though you take me for a fool
I've got better things to do
Then to prove myself to you But you know I won't get back on
That road end is too long
Another year with no strings
But it's fine I'm a little too young with not enough time
I'm a little too young with not enough time I woke up half the man I was Fingers burnt down to the bone
Conversations on my own If I could take me in, I would
And contradict the batting good
And find myself a brand new home But you know I won't get back on
That road end is too long
Another year with no strings
But it's fine I'm a little too young with not enough time
I'm a little too young with not enough time I'm a little too young with not enough time
I'm a little too young with not enough time I'm a little too young with not enough time
I'm a little too young with not enough time I'm a little too young with not enough time
I'm a little too young with not enough time I'm a little too young with not enough time But you know I won't get back on
That road end is too long
Another year with no strings
But it's fine I'm a little too young with not enough time

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>