

Your Reward

In the Silence

Your lies fill the darkness your eyes lead me on the sky reveals the truth now no time to linger on, my love

You dreamed with me in silence it seemed we were in love if so I see no reason to hide from me this weight that pulled you down

And it seems that we are stung with emotion pain we recognize
and all that we were, has fallen apart with your implosion
this is your reward

Goodbye, my love, goodbye

A pain, every day since I sent you away Looking back, I guess I should have realized youâ€™d chase your dragon to your grave

this is your reward
