

Reflections (care Enough)

Mariah Carey

Reflections of your love have come to wither
I thought I'd done my best to realize
A picture fades of you and I together
I haven't come to terms with how we said goodbye
Did you really care
Care at all for me?
Did you really care
Did you care at all for me?
A displaced little girl wept years in silence
And whispered wishes you'd materialize
She pressed on night and day to keep on living
And tried so many ways to keep her soul alive
Did you really care
Care enough for me?
Did you really care
Did you care at all for me?
If I'm not quite good enough
Or somehow undeserving of a mother's love
You could have had the decency to give me up
Before you gave me life
Don't you even care
Just the slightest little bit for me
'Cause I really need to feel you cared
Even once upon a time for me
I need to believe
In my heart of heart of hearts, you care for me
I need to understand
Why you left me there so helplessly
Don't you even care
Care at all for me?
Reflections of your love have come to wither
I thought I'd done my best to memorize
