

Undone

Joe Nichols

Sunset is start cast some shadows on the wall
And if you're thinking about me you don't even have to call
If you wanna come on over, baby, I wanna let I've been caught up in the moment since I met ya
I've been watching the hands on the clock And I've been leaving the latch on the lock
Undone, Like the buttons on your shirt undone
Showing every single curve I want you so bad baby you know how to make me come
Undone, Kissing all up on my neck
Undone, Catching every single breath, I love
How easily you do something to me that just can't be Undone
Girl, you know you're gonna start a fire when you touch me like that
So go ahead and pull me over the edge, I won't ever go back Baby when you hold me together got a little taste and now I want a forever
Just watching your hair fall, girl you know how to get me all Undone, Like the buttons on your shirt undone Showing every single curve I want
you so bad baby you know how to make me come
Undone, Kissing all up on my neck
Undone, Catching every single breath, I love
How easily you do something to me that just can't be Undone
I just want end up all tangled up
I just want to get all wrapped in your love
Undone, Like the buttons on your shirt undone
Showing every single curve I want
you so bad baby you know how to make me come
Undone, Kissing all up on my neck
Undone, Catching every single breath, I love
How easily you do something to me that just can't be Undone
I just want end up all tangled up
I just want to get all wrapped in your love
