Tears Fall

Jacquie Lee

Tears fall, and I know
That this pain, is just a part of life
Tears fall, and I know
That this pain, is just a part of life

I had enough of you hiding us
How it hurt me you don't see
Your true colors showed up a little brighter
Why'd you keep on playing me?

I put my hands back on the throttle, my love
'Cause I felt you driving me
Into a deep darkness
Into the darkness

And I don't let you see me cry
Didn't ask why
Just told you that your leaving tonight
This is our goodbye

I can take a deep breath now that you have left
You didn't get the best of me
The raw pain never goes away
But it gets better everyday

I was so wrapped up, I was blinded by love
Couldn't see a way to leave
But I'm coming out of the darkness
Out of the darkness

And I don't let you see me cry
I don't ask why
Why you're not here with me tonight
Already said goodbye!

I watched you leave
Couldn't breathe, couldn't cry
Felt like I was dying
Then I let a tear fall, let myself feel it all

Now I know, now I know
That I'm gonna survive
If I let a single tear fall
Drown myself in it all
