

Only a Human

George Ezra

It's a new day
Wind up the music box and watch the city go
Always the same
Watching neighbours on the pavements rock 'n' roll
Flicking through your inbox hundred miles an hour
Oh, forever dreaming lullaby You can run, you can jump, I fuck it up
But you can't blame yourself, no, you're just human
Come on, come on
No, you can't blame yourself, you're just human
No, you can't blame yourself, you're just human
If it's a new day
Why don't we invent a new world to explore?
Why don't we create a moment to remember in five years?
Winner's just a word, and loser's just one too
Oh, forever dreaming lullaby You can run, you can jump, I fuck it up
But you can't blame yourself, no, you're just human
Come on, come on
No, you can't blame yourself, you're just human
No, you can't blame yourself, you're just human Winner's just a word, loser's just one too
Oh, forever dreaming lullaby You can run, you can jump, I fuck it up
But you can't blame yourself, no, you're just human
Come on, come on
No, you can't blame yourself, you're just human
You can run, you can jump, I fuck it up
But you can't blame yourself, no, you're just human
Come on, come on
No, you can't blame yourself, you're just human
Come on, come on
No, you can't blame yourself, you're just human
No, you can't blame yourself, you're just human
No, you can't blame yourself, you're just human
