

Brand New Game

Millencolin

Do you remember Fazil's friend?
He used to live in the house of blend
He told a story of his life, about a fork and knife
He said when he was 22, he was mostly feeling blue
I wonder what he's up to now, if he's changed somehow
Did he ever find his way to the greener side
Or did he get his dreams tonight?
I'm not the same, years have past
It kind of scares me how it went so fast
It's a brand new game, life has past
And all I wanted was to make it last
Do you remember Fazil's friend?
He said you'd be friends 'til the end
In a soft world, do you trust a guy who's lozin' must?
I think he's got his fingers crossed
That he got it all across
I hope you found the missing link
Did he ever stop to think?
I'm not the same, years have past
It kind of scares me how it went so fast
It's a brand new game, life has past
And all I wanted was to make it last
It's a brand new game and not quite what I thought
I can remain the same but still achieve a lot
It's a brand new game and how our lives will pass
With one foot stuck in the past, in the past
Oh, can I ever make it last?
(Make it last)
It's all I wanted
I wanted it to last
(Wanted it to last)
I'm not the same, years have past
It kind of scares me how it went so fast
It's a brand new game, life has past
And all I wanted was to make it last, to make it last
It's all I wanted
Yeah, I wanted it to last
Wanted it to last
