Whitewater

36 Crazyfists

From sky stars fell out into graves,
Breathing while dying
Companies of ghosts remain
Alone with, with the sea
And as they fade away.....Late night hope and wish
Even now your undressed in my sleepSlowly the swells of light seep through
As we breathe in the darkened sky
And in times of grace replace my distaste
Signals flare and layers fade awayWhat water won't wash away
Don't let it confuse.
The road to soul is lonely at best
I've arrived at emptyAnd as it burns away
Late night hope and wish
Even now your undressed in my sleepSlowly the swells of light seep through
As we breathe in the darkened sky
And in times of grace replace my distaste
Signals flare and layers fade awayYou won't destroy me or break my will (x2)And in times of grace replace my distaste
Signals flare and layers fade away
Slowly the swells of light seep through
As we breathe in the darkened skyAnd in times of grace replace my distaste Signals flare as layers fade awayOr break my will

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/