Black Flowers

Fishbone

Black flowers have lost their way
They've lost their way again
Cursed for their will to dream
Raped by mankind againLike the auction blocks of castrated dreams
Kills the heart of love turned into disease
And each day I pray
Please take me away, please take me awayBlack flowers have lost their way
Black flowers have lost their way
Black flowers have lost their way
Black flowers have lost their wayAnd why does this hatred linger on
And the passing time has healed no wounds
And the love, oh, the love
Has rotted away and I can't bear this feeling anymoreNo, I won't give into hatred
And I'll never stop dreaming
And I'll love, oh, I'll love
Till my very last breath is taken away[Incomprehensible]
