

Honey Child (Remastered Album Version)

Bad Company

Well the first time that I met you, you were only seventeen
But I had to put you down, 'cause I didn't know where you'd been
You had a long black dress,
Your hair in a mess,
You didn't seem to have no class
But the look on your face
Was no disgrace
I knew I'd had to move real fast Honey child
Don't you know you drive me wild
Oh Honey child
Don't you know you drive me wild
Just about to lose my mind Well the second time that I met you, you were just turned twenty-one
And all your talk about love, love, was gone, long gone Oh Honey child
Don't you know you drive me wild
Honey child
Don't you know you drive me wild
Just about to lose my mind Oh Honey child
Don't you know you drive me wild
Honey child
Don't you know you drive me wild Honey child
Don't you know you drive me wild
Honey child
Don't you know you drive me wild Honey child
Don't you know you drive me wild
Honey child
Don't you know you drive me wild Honey, honey, honey, honey child
Don't you know you drive me wild

Songwriters

RALPHS, MICK (MICHAEL GEOFFREY)/RODGERS, PAUL BERNARD/KIRKE, SIMON/BURRELL, RAYMOND Published by

Lyrics © Warner/Chappell Music, Inc. Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnyrics.com/>