

Blown Minded (Original Take)

Young Galaxy

How did I get to here?
A random chain of events
Or chemicals and elements conspiring, divining
From the start i've been pulled apart by weightless love
And the heavy hooks of sadness
Oh, I was born blown minded
With an eye on oblivion
Oh, I was born blown minded
With an eye on oblivion
In my heart I have lived without odds
It's been the war of attrition
Between a small-minded fool and sublime intuition
I believe there's a meteor out there with my name on it
Hurling through space and nothing can stop it
