Just One Of The Guys

Jared Rogerson

All our friends, they're gettin' on
But the girls are still staying young
If I get caught being rude in a conversation
With a child bride on a summer vacationNo matter how hard I try to be just one of the guys
There's a little something inside that won't let me
No matter how hard I try to have an open mind
There's a little something inside that prevents meIt's how I live. You got me here,
Locked in this bathroom full of tears
And I have begged for you and I have borrowed
But I've been the only sister to my own sorrowNo matter how hard I try to be just one of the guys
There's a little something inside that won't let me
No matter how hard I try to have an open mind
There's a little clock inside that keeps tickin'There's only one difference between you and me
When I look at myself, all I can see:
I'm just another lady without a babyNo matter how hard I try to be just one of the guys
There's a little something inside that won't let me
No matter how hard I try to have an open mind
There's a little cop inside that prevents meI'm not gonna break for you
I'm not gonna pray for you
I'm not gonna pay for you
That's not what ladies doDah dah-dah dah-dah...
