Freetime

BBE

I need the free time
I need the free time
I need the free time
I need the free time
I need the free timeI need the free time
I need the free time
I need the free timeI need the free time
I need the free time
I need the free timeI need the free time
I need the free time
I need the free timeI need the free time
I need to get away
I need the free time
To get away from youI need some me time
I need the me time
I need to run away, run away
Run away, run away tonight, yeahI need the me time, yeah
I need the me time, yeahI need the free time
I need the free time
I need the free time
I need to get away
I jump in my car
And ride ride to oblivionI need me time
I need the me time
I need to run away, run away
Far away, far away, tonightUnlike the sun that shines through a crimson sky
I have built these walls so you can't get by
And it's alright, tonight, tonight, it's alright
And it's alright, tonight, tonight, it's alrightRun, run, run, run to your place till you're gone
Where do you go to be free?
Run, run, run, run to your place till you're gone
Where do you go to be free?Run, run, run, run to your place till you're gone
Where do you go to be free?
Run, run, run, run to your place till you're gone
Where do you go to be free?
YeahUnlike the sun that shines through a crimson sky
I have built these walls so you can't get byI need the free time
I need the free time
I need the free time
