

Deadlights

Arkaik

from the east
a thundering roar is heard countless victims
struck by fear
as the time draws near,
anticipation builds
the aggressor attacks and leaves no man alive the beast rises from out of the pit to tell the news of man's destruction to wage war against every nation the time has come to kill protector and destroyer of worlds in your rage lies the death of the earth the flames reach towards the sky and the earth dies
