Love Is Paranoid

The Distillers

I step right off the edge, let the blood rush to my head
Im going down to where the lucky one's have bled
I lift the veil up to reveal a fascination
And if you crave it then you know that you are injuredAnd Im holding on
And Im holding onFor what you do to me, oh baby, theres no measure
I've taken everything and now I want to give it
I left the lights on so you stumble in devotion
So easy, so easy, it's left unspokenAnd Im holding on
And Im holding onAnd Im holding on
And Im holding onIve come to realize that You're the only thingIm falling all the way in Im falling all the way inIve come to realize
You're the only thing I want nowIm falling all the way in
I'm falling all the way inIm falling all the way in
Im falling all the way inIm falling all the way in
Im falling all the way inIm falling all the way in
