

The Line

Frostfang

The first day of battle, we've changed who's in charge
Muskets and courage, you all start to lack
The heavy stream of cavalry, too much, it's too large
The first line is broken, retreat and fall backFight the rebs'!
Kill them all!

Try to cheat death!The metal hook is laid atop both hill and each hill
In a flash of steal you try to react
You've been shot but still rack up kill after kill
Your nightmares alive, the flank they attackFight the rebs'!
Kill them all!

Try to cheat death!
This line must not fall!Hold, your ammo is low.
Charge, bayonet attack.
Roar, louder than the guns.

Die, you won't live again!Artillery and deadly fire seems to save, but yet dims
You fight and you die for your life and your land
Honor the fallen, and the worst loss and win
But the Devils Den is where your live and your life and your death beginFight the rebs'!
Kill them all!

Try to cheat death!
This line will not fall!
