Stranger Than Love

Harem Scarem

Any night that you're lonely can be the night
Your conscience gets a little too much
You're torn by your freedom, you're safe in chains
Is you life made of diamonds or dustWould you surrender it all?
I gotta knowDo you want my touch?
Would it hurt too much?
There's nothing stranger than love
Do you want
(Do you want my touch?)
Do you feel
(Would it hurt too much?)There's nothing stranger than love
Do you want my love in times of confusion?
We never know if the emotions we feel are enough
And then out of nowhere we remember
That there's nothing stranger than loveWould you surrender it all?
I gotta knowBetween the two of us
You know, it's more than enough
