Autumn Fallin'

Jaymay

Autumn fallin' from trees
The snow is up to our knees
Oh I let you borrow my keys
To sleep in my room

You threw away my shoe
I brought you to Central Park Zoo
Then I drew your eyes very blue
And stuck 'em on the fridge

I believe it was you
Who I wanted to walking next to
And I believe we were friends
And I believe we will be again

You sighed and swept your broom
Under the wintery moon
When I called up this afternoon
Your words were "Goodbye goodbye goodbye"

I believe it was you
Who I wanted to be talking to
I believe we were friends
And I believe we will be again

And if I knock on your door would you let me in
Do you know anymore than I do
Wonder about you even if you don't want me to Oh The girl you once knew is the person we are

And I believe it was you
Who I wanted to walking next to
And I believe we were friends
And I believe we will be again
