If You Came Back from Heaven

Lorrie Morgan

I wouldn't know what to say
I wouldn't know what to do
If you came back from heaven
And I would look at youWould I fumble for the words?
Would I be a little shy?
Would I bust right out with laughter
Or break right down and cry?Oh, if you came back from heaven
Would it be like it was then?
Could we just pick up where we left off
And try it all again?Oh, if you came back from heaven
It would freeze me in my tracks
And I hope God knows
If he let you go, I'd never send you backDo your kisses feel the same?
Do you still have the same touch?
And will you whisper softly
That you've missed me so much?Have you heard all my prays
When I laid down at night?
And did you feel my body
When I held your pillow tight?Oh, if you came back from heaven
Would it be like it was then?
Could we just pick up where we left off
And try it all again?Oh, if you came back from heaven
It would freeze me in my tracks
And I hope God knows
If he let you go, I'd never send you backAnd if God forbid, you leave this earth
Again while I see
I hope he knows
If you go, you'll be bringing meOh, if you came back from heaven
Would it be like it was then?
Could we just pick up where we left off
And try it all again?Oh, if you came back from heaven
It would freeze me in my tracks
And I hope God knows
If he let you go, I'd never send you backI hope God knows
If he let you go, I'd never send you back
