

The Devil Wears a Suit and Tie

Colter Wall

Well, Reverend Reverend please come quick Cause I got something to admit
I met a man out in the sticks
A good old miss
He drove a series 10 cadillac and wore cigar on his lip
Don't you know the Devil wears a suit and tie
I saw him driving down the sixty one in early July
White as a cotton field
and sharp as a knife
I heard him howlin' as he passed me by
And he said
I know you I know you, young man
I know you by the state of your hands
You're a six string picker
Just as I... I am
Let me learn ya some I know a few turns to make all the girls dance
Don't you know the Devil wears a suit and tie
I saw him driving down the sixty one in early July
White as a cotton field
and sharp as a knife
Oh foolish foolish was I Damn my foolish eyes cause that man's lessons had a price
Oh sweet price
My sweet soul
Everlasting
My very own
Eternal light
Don't you know the Devil wears a suit and tie
I saw him driving down the sixty one in early July
White as a cotton field
and sharp as a knife
Well the Devil wears a suit and tie
I saw him driving down the sixty one in early July
White as a cotton field
and sharp as a knife

I heard him howlin' as he passed me by
