

Everything Has Changed

Lucinda Williams

I can't feel my love anymore
I can't feel my love anymore
Mystery and the splendor dont thrill me like before
I can't feel my love anymore I dont wanna talk to anyone
I dont wanna talk to anyone
All the words that used to work have melted in the sun
And I dont want to talk to anyone Faces look familiar but they dont have names
Towns I used to live in have been rearranged
Highways I once traveled down dont look the same
Everything has changed, everything has changed I cant find my joy anywhere
I cant find my joy anywhere
All the magic vanished into the misty air
And I cant find my joy anywhere And now I dont know where my faith has gone
Now I dont know where my faith has gone
From the wonder I had a sense of to the brightest star that shone
And now I dont know where my faith has gone Faces look familiar but they dont have names
Towns I used to live in have been rearranged
Highways I once traveled down dont look the same
Everything has changed, everything has changed

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>