

Cab

Train

New York snow this time of year
There's nothing more beautiful to me
Except for youMaking my way on the town and down
 Seeing familiar places, faces
In my pile of coffee groundsThe days are better, the nights are still so lonely
 Sometimes I think I'm the only cab on the road
Sometimes I think I'm the only cab on the roadWatching my breath rise in the sun
 Pulling myself into mid-one
 Helplessly feel for my phone and drive awayThis new rhythm I pursue
 Is just my getting over you
Telling myself that I need toThe days are better, the nights are still so lonely
 Sometimes I think I'm the only cab on the road
Sometimes I think I'm the only cab on the roadI'm still looking for a play
 No one said that it was fair
 To be aloneThe days are better, the nights are still so lonely
Sometimes I think I'm the only cab on the roadThe days are better, the nights are still so lonely
 Sometimes I think I'm the only cab on the road
 Sometimes I think I'm the only cab on the road
