Check Ya

From Zero

Once I told you about my secrets
I say, "I trust you but that don't seem right"
Harsh decisions is what has made us
Grow ever slowly towards other sides
Forget about the time
It's up to me
You left me now it's over
I'm over again
So think about the time
It's meant to be
You think about it
Over and over
You might try and you might wait
And you might erase me cold as ice
And you might care
And you might imagine my decision to stay
But it's over this time, glad it's mine
What controls you to that behavior?
Is resolution to tough to fit right?
Now it's over, we've made decisions
My own conclusion, I let it sit there
Forget about the time
It's up to me
You left me now it's over
I'm over again
So think about the time
It's meant to be
You think about it
Over and over

You might try, you might wait
And you might erase me cold as ice
And you might care
And you might imagine my decision to stay
But it's over this time, glad it's mine
'Cause with a bomb
I'll check ya and the wick is sensi
Don't you stand to close y'all?
With a bomb I'll wreck ya

And the beside's scary
Don't you pass this way now
When the band starts creepin'
And the fans start seein'
What has taken so long
It's a bomb that checks ya
And the wick that sensi
[Inaudible]Over and over
And you might try and you might wait
And you might erase me cold as ice
And you might care
You might imagine my decision to stay
With you
You might try and you might wait
And you might care
