Singing My Song

Cimorelli

Once upon a time
My story started, not far from here
And when you came into mine
I couldn't help
but want you to stay

Our words were lost in the wind once again
You say that we're wrong and I know that you're right
And you want me to just walk away
But I can't let it all pass by

Ooooh, you pulled me along
Why, don't you let me go
Cause you, are so hard to forget
When you're singing my song so sweetly now
Ooooh, so sweetly now
Ooooh, so sweetly now

And when things go right
I can't help but think
This is how it's supposed to be
Every note that you sing fits so perfectly, into my song

Our words were lost in the wind once again
You say that we're wrong and I know that you're right
And you want me to just walk away
But I can't let it all pass by

Ooooh, you pulled me along
Why, don't you let me go
Cause you, are so hard to forget
When you're singing my song so sweetly now
Ooooh, so sweetly now
Ooooh, so sweetly now

And I'm so attatched
It's nearly possible, to bring me back
And they say, you're too good to be true
But you're too untrue to be good

And I can't sing along Never could

Ooooh, you pulled me along
Why, don't you let me go
Cause you, are so hard to forget
When you're singing my song so sweetly now

Ooooh, you pulled me along
Why, don't you let me go
Cause you, are so hard to forget
When you're singing my song so sweetly now
Ooooh, so sweetly now

You're singing my song
You're singing my song so weetly now
