The Epilogue

Crosses

It's a strange day
The roses are in bloom
But in a strange way
I know somehow we're doomedLook around through the town
Not a soul to be found
In silence, not a sound
There's no one around but youIn the back of the car
On our way from the bar
In silence, here we are
Reminding us we're doomedWe'll get sad it's time we've come to the end
We've circled around our doom
And I won't stop, not till I get what I want
And all that I want is youIn a strange place
When the sun goes down, we move
Into a strange phase
Like we've got nothing left to loseSo we slip through the town
With our heads in the clouds
In silence, not a sound
For miles and miles aroundFall asleep in the park
Underneath all the stars
In silence, here we are
Reminded of how we're doomedGet sad it's time we've come to the end
We've circled around our doom
Yeah, I won't stop, not till I get what I want
And all that I want is youIt's you
All that I want is you
Yeah, you
All that I want is youSo get sad it's we come to the end
We've circled around our doom
Yeah, I won't stop, not till I get what I want
And all that I want is youNow get sad it's time we've come to the end
We've circled around our doom
Yeah, I won't stop, not till I get what I want
'Cause all that I want is you
