Hunt the Self

Howard Jones

Messing around I've wasted my time for years
Listening to friends who keep filling me up with ideas
Having deep talks with scholars who sound so fine
Hearing this sham is like getting drunk on cheap wineWell it's time for a change
I've got to move on
There's got to be more than this
The feeling is strongLook in better places gonna look inside
Gonna get higher something is pulling me on Breaking down the old ways feeling no regret
Gone are the shaky sands I've been building onWell it's time for a change
(Well I've lost lots of friends)
I've got to move on
(By sticking to my ground)
There's got to be more than this
(I don't give a damn)
The feeling is strong
(Just look what I've found)Here I come now got no time to frown
Nothing in my way now nothing can bring me down
Feel that surge open the doors around
Higher and higher the world is my hunting groundWell it's time for a change
(Well it's time for a change)
I've got to move on
(I've got to move on)
There's got to be more than this
(There's got to be more)
The feeling is strong
(The feeling is strong)
