

Headlights Look Like Diamonds

Arcade Fire

The red lights mean you're leaving
The white one's mean returning
Tell me, how this story ends?
And I'll keep them fires burning The headlights look like diamonds
The taillights burn like coals
Tell me how this story ends
Before the fires go cold The countryside's deserted
There's no one on the farms
The suburbs all are sleeping
The earthquakes set off car alarms All after all now we aware
All after all the time we share
There's so much fears of world
[Unverified] of world, tears of world
