I Know

Shawn Mullins

You're in my mind half the time
Trying to find someone to hide behind
But still they poured right in on you
And everyday you try to walk away
From the stupid things they say, they say just to hurt youBut I'm singin', baby, I know you know
That when the music's pumpin' and the lights are low
You become someone else, yeahWell, I gotta pay respect where respect is due
I ain't never seen a woman who can move like you
I said I gotta pay respect where respect is due
I ain't never seen a woman who can move like you, yeahI'm singin', baby, I know you know
That when the music's pumpin' and the lights are low
You become someone elseI'm singin', baby, I know you know
That when the music's pumpin' and the lights are low
You become someone elseI feel it burnin' from my soul, it takes me higher. yeah
Baby, there's no reason to control, oh, I dance with my desireYou're in my mind half the time
Tryin' to find someone to hide behind
And still they poured right in on you
And everyday you try to walk away
From the stupid things they say, they say just to hurt youI'm singin', baby, I know you know
That when the music's pumpin' and the lights are low
You become someone elseI'm singin', baby, I know you know
That when the music's pumpin' and the lights are low
You become someone else

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/