

Killing Me Killing You

Sentenced

Baby, have you seen, there is a snake in our paradise
A serpent that's wriggling between us and freezing our feelings to ice And with each drop of blood we bleed because of this something so precious dies and it feels it really is...Killing Me Killing You Killing all we have
As our loves wither away Burning Me Burning You
Burning us to ash
Drowning us in a sea of flames Darling, do you feel, there is a storm coming our way
The burning light between us is already starting to fade
The fire in our hearts is smothered by the rain and the crimson flame of passion turns into something gray And with each drop of blood our shattered hearts ever bleed something so precious dies and is lost eternally Killing Me Killing You Killing all we have
As our loves wither away Burning Me Burning You
Burning us to ash
Drowning us in a sea of flames Each teardrop from your eyes makes something inside me die Each of these days that draws us part takes a piece from my heart Kill me kill me kill me again with your love and chase the storm away Bring me bring me bring me the end with your love and haunt the demons away Killing Me Killing You Killing all we have
As our loves wither away Burning Me Burning You
Burning us to ash
Drowning us in a sea of flames Kill me kill me kill me again with your love and chase the snake away
Bring me bring me bring me the end with your love and haunt the serpent away
