

High Moon

Django Django

Walk through the night we knew so well
Over horizons in the dark
Blinded I wonder if you're there
Under the cover of your feign silhouette You were hidden in the broad daylight overlooking like a satellite
Overshadowed by the blaze of the sun wonder if
Have you ever seen this side of me
Will you ever keep me company
Will you ever see the shadow that falls over me Night falling away
To pale morning twilight
Through veils out of eyesight
We'll wait for this
Light drifting away
Through cracks in the skylight
And pale winter moonshine we'll drink to this Call out your name there's no reply
Will we be greeted by your smile
Turn round and leave before the dawn
Under horizons in the sun promise if... You were hidden in the broad daylight overlooking like a satellite
Overshadowed by the blaze of the sun wonder if
Have you ever seen this side of me
Will you ever keep me company
Will you ever see the shadow that falls over me Night falling away
To pale morning twilight
Through veils out of eyesight
We'll wait for this
Light drifting away
Through cracks in the skylight
And pale winter moonshine we'll drink to this
