

Old Money

Young Buck, Haystak

Old money goes a long way but not far enough to shake that frown you change your lines still the readers of these publications buy Old money has a new face Go flash it in the Hamptons now The look, the life
but now daddy's overseeing so maybe this time old money find your own way home its just a lesson learnt with time cut the television, phone lines and all the dirty pretty things its just a short sentence, no it aint life you're out in good time but intentions will remain
