I'm Gonna Come Back

Michael Learns to Rock

Building it up, tearing it down
The circle goes round and around
Lessons are learned and bridges burned
I'm hoping the tide will turnI'm gonna change direction
Just for my own protectionA flag is up, I see the sign
It's just a matter of time
The wind will blow and the trees will bend
Nothing is left in the endIt isn't my desire
To set the world on fireI'm gonna come back when the war is over
When you're ready to make amends
Fill up the cracks and find the pieces
Then put them all back againI see you there in the air
Nothing to break your fall
The damage is done, you've had your fun
Who is gonna pay for it all?It isn't my desire
To set the world on fireI'm gonna come back when the war is over
When you're ready to make amends
Fill up the cracks and find the pieces
Then put them all back againI'm turning my back as the walls are falling
Staying away till the dust is gone
I'm under attack and a voice is calling
Better stay away, something's wrongI'm gonna come back when the war is over
When you're ready to make amends
Fill up the cracks and find the pieces
Then put them all back againI'm turning my back as the walls are falling
Staying away till the dust is gone
I'm under attack and a voice is calling
Better stay away, something's wrongI'm gonna come back, something's wrong
I'm gonna come back

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/