

In my hand

Nicola Sedda

A silent shadow runs around my feet
And I, cold as white marble, I stand out and see
My life into the mirror of my consciousness

They have stolen my dreams
They have sold all my tears
I have learnt by their deeds
I'll flood the earth to wash away their sins

Breathe the air
You will remember the sound of the rain
I bring your gods
In my hand

The sky is stormy all around
And silently the darkness blinds their eyes
Just to make them see their thoughts
And then they'll be aware, of all the pain
They've made by what they've done
The sky cries a last tear
Only a breath of a slow wind
I feel empty and cold
I am alone with their frozen souls

Take your last breath
You will remember the smell of the rain
Heaven falls
In my hand
Don't cry for me
Don't pray for me
Your destiny's
In my hand

You will pay for your sins
Frozen souls from the seas
Hear the sound of my soul
Life is as long as a breath
But my spirit's forever

Breathe the air

You will remember the rain
Reach your souls
In my hand
You cry for me
You pray for me
Your destiny's
In my hand

I'll try to save this world
I'll flood this hell
(In my hand) I'll save your souls
And I'll hold you close
