

Harper Lee (JK Session)

Little Green Cars

Like a crash I wait for the impact
And like a train I wait for the smoke
Like a storm I wait for the silence
And like a bluff I wait till you fold Oooh there's a gun in the attic let me go grab it
Oooh I'd blow holes in my soul just so you can look past it
Oooh ye there's glass on the floor there's a hole in the roof
Oooh ye the chandelier fell now the rains falling through Like a dog I wait for my owner
And Harper Lee I'll kill me a bird
And I sit back and I just watch it happen
And just like you I won't say a word Oooh there's a gun in the attic, let me go grab it
Oooh I'd blow holes in my soul just so you can look past it
Oooh ye the chandelier fell, now the rain's falling through
