

Nightmarez

Twiztid

In the dark, in the night, in the midst of a dream or a nightmare
When nobody can hear you scream
Is too fine to awake from your sleep
And you're shaking in your bed and dreaming
The evil is creepin', crawlin' I keep callin'
Now for some help, but I feel like I'm fallin'
Can I get up and shake off the nightmare?
But when I look in the mirror it's in front of me right there
Staring at me with those eyes again
Making it harder and harder to try to pretend
Everything is just okay, I'm sad and lonely
Alive with nothing left to say
Help me!
Why is this happening to me again
I'm reaching for reasons I can never sleep
Demons to hell, but they belonging on along the one
And you're to (help me!)
To get up from falling back in the bed
I'm reaching to gun is pressed to my head
I'm hesitant, not sure I want this to end
These nightmares just want me dead Abnormally, all the nightmares my demons causing
My feelings in a form of human beings
All searchin' for some kinda offend
Why the dream is happen
Protected from demanding, insanity and blasphemy
Battling within me, sharing and disappearin'
Standing in misconception
When it's really nothing more than a fraction
(I feel) It ain't nobody but Twiztid down here
Feel like I'm always living in the nightmare
Cause even when I open my eyes the evil's right there
So they say that I'm outta my ever livin'
Now forgive like bout is ticking moterfucking mind
Darkness sorounds me, and terror it drowns me
I cannot breathe (cannot leave!)
Wake me up (let me live!)
Open my eyes close so why won't they hopin'
(I try but can't focus!) Cause everything hopeless
Everything hopeless and everything black

So wake me up, bring me back x2
Everything hopeless and everything black
So wake me up, bring me back!
