Time After Time

Elliot Minor

Another day, waking to the same old beat,
Counting doors, walking through the same old street,
Breathing in breathing out the same,
Nothing's changed, just imitating yesterday.
Count down, all the opportunities,
It's down to one, now everthing is falling on me,
Alarm bells, are warning me to do something soon,
Get away, I've got to get away.I hear the sound of something new,
Give me the key to unlock you.Time after time, and nothing has changed,
Time after time, and we're still the same,
Day after day, and nothing has changed,
And now I feel, that I'm gonna break,
Cos I just cannot wait to repeat yesterday.It's just a game, where you're the boss and I'm just a slave,
You trap me in, and I just play to entertain,
And nothing more, so make your move and I'll be ok,
I try my best, but all you do is laugh in my face,
A gunshot, will wake you up in the night,
You better run or you will end up seeing the light,
My heartbeat, is wanting me to do something soon,
Get away, I've got to get away.I hear the sound of something new,(something new)
Give me the key to unlock you.Time after time, and nothing has changed,
Time after time, and we're still the same,
Day after day, and nothing has changed,
And now I feel, that I'm gonna break,
Cos I just cannot wait to repeat yesterday.I hear the sound of something new,
I hear the sound of something new,
Give me the key to unlock you.Time after time, and nothing has changed,
Time after time, and we're still the same,
Day after day, and nothing has changed,
And now I feel, that I'm gonna break,
Cos I just cannot wait to repeat yester...
Day...To repeat yester...Day...To repeat yester...
Day...To repeat yesterday, that I'm gonna break,
Cos I just cannot wait, to repeat yesterday!

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/