

Scarlet Heavens

Katatonnia

Only for the wind I lay myself down
Feeling this scarlet scent of death
Under ebony shades I dream of a child
Dancing in heaven I must have seen his face before
A monument of shallow sorrows
Under ebony shades a child now dies
But grievance won't regain Something grasp for my soul
I think it's god
But my sorrow is dragging me down
Through my sins Where is god in his heaven
Why am I a twisted mind
Now I see the light above
But in darkness I must fall For my soul you pray at last
Will I find my place?
The stench of sorrow that pierce my flesh
Can never be pure When the blackness overwhelms me
Ohh, where shall I turn?
To run away to never look back
To run away from evil Only for the wind I lay myself down
Feeling this scarlet scent of death
Under ebony shades I dream of a child
Dancing in heaven
(Dancing in heaven) I must have seen his face before
A monument of shallow sorrows
Under ebony shades a child now dies
But grievance won't regain
Dancing in heaven

Songwriters

NYSTROM, ANDERS / RENKSE, JONAS PETTER Published by

Lyrics © Universal Music Publishing Group

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>