Godhead

I could be like everything you want
Give you everything I've got inside
Take me to the place where I can never be free
Rip my last hope right out of me
Don't you think that you're special
You could be anyone
Take the place of another
Cycle of delirium
Just give me away
I betray, I'm useless anyway
Just give me away
I pray that everyday will be my last
Just give me away
I could turn myself into a miracle man
Bow before the things you hold sacred
Sparkling example of the one that you want
Leaving your existence mine to haunt
Don't you think this is unreal
You could be anyone
Take the place of another
End it all with a gun
Just give me away
I betray, I'm useless anyway
Just give me away
I pray that everyday will be my last
Just give me away
And it feels the same with anyone
And I know this has been overdone
Now it feels the same with everyone
As I burn into oblivion
Just give me away
I betray, I'm useless anyway
Just give me away
I pray that everyday will be my last
Just give me away
Now you see your time is done
Fill your space with anyone
Now you see your time is done
Fill your space with anyone
