Same Ground Again

Kosheen

Every time we get two weeks in
It all starts happening
Crazy though it is to let it beginIs the love we have the only sin?
I felt like we should let it go
But I can't live without you, thoughHow did we get here again?
Why can't we talk, when I thought we were friends?
How did we get this far in?
We keep going over the same ground againGo back to the beginning again
If we keep wasting time love will die in the endAll this shit is making us thin
Cos we keep going over the same ground again
The same ground againThe moon is nearly going down
Sun is nearly rising
See the quiet in your eyes
Is the anger now subsiding?
Is it that you are satisfied?
I never lied, what did I have to hide?How did we get here again?
Why can't we talk, when I thought we were friends?
How did we get this far in
We keep going over the same ground againGo back to the beginning again
If we keep wasting time love will die in the endAll this shit is making us thin
Cos we keep going over the same ground again
The same ground again
