

Strange Place Blues (feat. Washboard Sam)

Bukka White

I'm a stranger at this place and I'm lookin' for my mother's grave

I'm a stranger at this place and I'm lookin' for my mother's grave

Well it seems like to me, ooh well, well some of us goin' to wailI was at mother's grave, when they put my mother away

I was at mother's grave, when they put my mother away

And I can't find no one ooh, well, to take her placeAfter my mother was put away, I thought my wife would take her place

After my mother was put away, I thought my wife would take her place

I'll show you the diff'rence 'tween a mother and a wife, well, my wife done throw me awayI wished I could find someone to take my mother's place

I wished I could find someone to take my mother's place

And if I can't find no one, ooh well, well you'll find me at her grave

Songwriters

BROWN, ROBERTPublished by

Lyrics Â© Universal Music Publishing Group Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damlyrics.com/>